THE FORECLOSURE PROCESS IN NEW YORK STATE

Borrower Misses Payments

When you owe a payment or a part of a payment, you can be considered "delinquent" on the mortgage.

Foreclosure Case Started

Lender files notice of pendency (lis pendens), summons and complaint with the court. Lender then serves you the summons and complaint in person or by mail.

90 Day Pre-foreclosure Notice

Lender must mail you information on getting help at least 90 days before starting a court case. You can avoid a foreclosure case by paying missed payments plus all interest and fees, or by signing an agreement with Lender.

Answer the Complaint

You must submit an answer if you want to tell the judge your defenses. Your answer deadline is 20 days from when you are served if you are served in person. It is 30 days if you are not served in person.

Settlement Conference/Second Chance to File Answer

A settlement conference should be scheduled by the court about three months after you are served with the court papers. Both sides come to court to see if they can settle the case. There may be several conferences over many months. If you can't settle the case in settlement conference, or you don't go, move on to the next step.

NOTE: If you go to your settlement conference, you get a second chance to file an answer. Your deadline to answer is 30 days after your first settlement conference.

Case Not Settled and Borrower Answered Complaint

You DID answer the complaint.

Case Settled in Settlement Conference

You went to settlement conferences and came to an agreement with Lender. There is no trial and case is over.

Case Not Settled and Borrower Didn't Answer Complaint

You DID NOT answer or your answer was rejected.

You lose trial

Judge Signs Foreclosure Judgment

Judge orders sale of your home at an auction at the courthouse.

You win trial

Foreclosure Sale Scheduled

Foreclosure Dismissed
